I am a hungry young recent graduate based out of Dallas, TX. I was raised in Southern Louisiana and North Texas. Whereafter I played collegiate baseball and graduated from Maryville College just south of Knoxville in East Tennessee. As a very clear communicator I have always been able to keep positive and meaningful relationships both with my coworkers and superiors. Also, through working sales-related jobs I have developed a very distinguished ability to communicate and be very personable to clients. I have just graduated college, but seek to remain an avid learner and am eager to find myself in a work environment where there is abundant room to grow and learn from those above and around me.
